

Slaton, Texas

Solugen’s Slaton, Texas facility will be the site of the second mini-manufacturing chemical plant and is located less than 2 hours from Midland, Texas, the center of the shale energy revolution in the US. Solugen’s dedicated customer service team will provide 24/7 support, at a moment’s notice.

This facility has direct access to rail, which makes it an ideal spot for transloading, warehousing, and distribution. Below are a few more details highlighting the capabilities of our Slaton, Texas facility:

West Texas 7-Acre Manufacturing and Distribution Hub

Warehouse for Storage

Blending: Liquid and Dry

Dedicated Rail Spur

RO And DI Water

On-Site Certified Truck Scale

Rail and Truck Transloading

EPA-Registered

DHS Compliant

Rapid Quality Analysis Quality Control (QA/QC) Testing Capabilities and Produced Water Analytics